Gonzalez: Smith transfer better than pardoning him

By GIC Cabanogian Jr.

MALACANANG OFFICIALS insist that they did the "right thing" in not letting convicted rapee Lance Cpl. Daniel Smith stay in the Malakal City Jail, saying the alternative would have been to pardon him.

"My golly it's better that way. What would they say? That we will just let the judgment be made that we then pardon him?" Justice Secretary Rod Gonzales said.

Added to conviction is evidence that the transfer to US custody was rushed, Gonzales, in an interview with the Inquirer after a briefing in Malakal, replied, "But he long of pardon in Smith (his good Smith was not pardoned)."

CA: Custody issue moot

But upholds Pozon over convicted rapist

By Armand M. Herrera and Vito Contreras

IT APPEARS LIKE THE FILIPINO WOMAN WHO won a historic rape case against Lance Cpl. Daniel Smith has scored a victory in the battle for custody of the US Marine—on paper.

Butting yesterday on Smith's petition for a temporary restraining order on his confinement at the Malakal City Jail, the Court of Appeals asserted the power of the Philippine government over military US troops, which it described as "detainees" (Philippine Daily Inquirer on Page A13).

But the appellate court said it could not do much in the custody dispute because a new agreement that resolved in Smith's midnight transfer back to the US

Embassy last Dec. 29 had rendered the matter "moot."

While it affirmed the legality of Malakal Judge Benigno Pano's decision to commit Smith to the city jail, upheld the Philippine "military jurisdiction" over the American soldier, and stressed that he should be held in a Philippine detention facility, the appellate court also said it could not fully intervene in diplomatic matters.

Stocks surge to near 10-year high; peso continues to gain

By Elizabeth L. Sanchez
and Derek C. Guevara

SHARE PRICES SURGED YESTERDAY TO A near 10-year high, basking in a critical 3,000 psychological mark, because of positive economic prospects, fund managers said.

Also yesterday, the peso extended its gains to hit a new intraday high of 46.82 before closing at 46.85 against the US dollar.

The peso on Tuesday broke into the 46 level against the US dollar, closing at P46.91, close to resistance from anxious Filipino investors. (PMP) who had pulled up during the long holiday break and investments into the stock market.

Total volume of the Philippine Stock Exchange rose 33.79 million.

The benchmark Philippine stock exchange index (PSEI)—a barometer of business confidence—jumped 45.85 points or 1.47 percent to end at 3,020.79. It hit a day high of 3,026.41.

This was the first time the index closed above the 3,000-point level since it ended at 3,060.59 points on April 4, 1997, the PSE said.

"The macroeconomic picture is very positive. It's a perfect scenario that is conducive for the local market to be sustained," said Jose Velasco, Ait Capital Securities research director.

Velasco said the index was likely to test the 3,400-point milestone level this year, although congressional and local elections in May and a possible global economic slowdown may curtail a market overhang.

The value of stocks traded yesterday hit P2.3 billion with 75 million and 35 million.

Total foreign buying hit P860.46 million, while foreign selling amounted to P900.51 million.

"Our market is off to a good start in 2007, and the strong faith of the PSEI today has boosted our expectations that the New Year will usher in more growth for the local stock market."

Tale of two chairs in Pasig barangay

Month-old legitimacy issue has delayed delivery of services, wages

By Editor C. Tancin Jr.

THE DELIVERY OF BASIC SERVICES has been hampered and salaries of employees delayed in the wake of the chairmanship of a Pasig City barangay remains unsettled.

Barangay administration Secretary Dennis said yesterday the city was recognizing the administration of Francisco Tancin in the Santa Barbara following an order from the Department of Justice and Local Government and a complaint containing order from the Court of Appeals. But acting chair Juan Sagun remained in the barangay hall yesterday, his successor Ed Garcia said. Tancin ran as chair and Sagun as kagawad under the administration party.

"The city is duty-bound to follow the TRO," Tancin said in the morning. He is set to issue a memorandum order to relocate the barangay chair.

The Office of the Ombudsman dismissed Tancin early in December for alleged grave misconduct and delivered Pasig City Mayor Vicente Francisco their order to Sagun as acting chair. Two weeks later, Tancin got a temporary restraining order from the Court of Appeals which, he claimed, recognized him as the current chair.

Sagun refused to accept the TRO and said it was not valid because he had been previously dismissed. He also filed a motion asking the court
